

Blog from the website forum Modellismo.net: <https://www.modellismo.net/forum/navi-e-velieri-work-progress/133711-mezzo-scafo-etoile-de-paris.html#post1521953>

Title: Half hull – Etoile de Paris

- Posted on 05/03/2022

The work is completed, the modifications have been done and now the hull looks like this. The curvatures of the cross-sections are much more similar to the real ones, as well as that of the transom. At this point, I would say that the shape is the final one, except for further minor adjustments during construction, and therefore the hard work has been completed.

I am really satisfied with the result so far, considering that I did not have a construction plan for this boat but I used that of a similar one. It was absolutely essential to have the owner's contribution through images and information provided to me in real time that allowed me to make all the necessary adjustments. I must say that all of this was also very inspiring!

And now we start with the details!